REJOICE!

Today has traditionally been called "Gaudete Sunday." The Latin tag is derived from Paul's appeal in the second reading to "rejoice always in the Lord," and the Latin Mass text based on that reading. The irony and paradox of this Christian joy is underlined by the fact that Paul wrote those words in prison. But from there he could see the progress of God's work.

Is it obvious to us? We feel that this is not the time for joy when there is so much suffering and moral evil. It is interesting, then, that the first reading is from the prophet Zephaniah, who is almost exclusively concerned with gloomy visions of Judgment Day. Today the Church selects the only optimistic text in Zephaniah, in which the prophet has been touched by the spirit of joy.

This, we are assured on all sides, is "the season of joy." Let us recapture that feeling of joy in our lives and reflect it to those who are joyless. Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

NEW YORK CITY MISSION TRIP WITNESS: Gabbie Palmer

I went into this trip without really knowing what to expect or what I would take away from it. To be completely honest I did not even want to attend this trip anymore as the days got closer to our departure but I came and I am glad that I did. I am very happy to have been able to attend this trip because my eyes have been opened to new perspectives and the greatness of God. So many different opportunities came up throughout this trip and I was glad that I was able to be a part of them: volunteering at soup kitchens, worshipping at Times Square, praying with the homeless, working with the Sisters, and meeting new friends. Being able to serve and talk with the homeless in the soup kitchens that we had the opportunity to serve was an amazing experience: I was able to witness first-hand the joy and thankfulness that came from them when they were handed their food, and through this experience I was able to meet interesting individuals with stories that they were more than willing to share.

To be completely honest I was not looking forward to singing in Times Square and was very nervous with not only singing but with worrying what people who passed by would think or say but I found myself not caring what others had thought when the time came because God had brought us there and given us the strength to do it. Praying and talking with the homeless is what I was most nervous for in this trip because I was like "no I can't do that, I can't just talk to someone on the side of the road" but as the days went on I found myself becoming more comfortable with the idea after witnessing others and their ease with it. In stepping out of my comfort zone I was able to meet new people and hear about their lives. In spending time with the Sisters we were not only working along side them, but we also had the opportunities to see live music with them, laugh with them, and also pray with them. Going into this trip there were a lot of people that I recognized and saw in mass but I never really knew them but because of this trip I feel like we grew closer together and all made new friends through our experiences together in New York City and I am grateful to have been a part of this journey. I can't wait to see what God has planned for me next.

As we light the third candle of the Advent wreath, the students of ASCS are reminded that the pink candle signifies Joy! We continue to prepare for the birth of Christ and share in Mary's joy as she anticipated Jesus' birth. As a school we joyfully celebrate the coming of Jesus, as our 580+ students from both campuses join together to sing and perform at our Christmas concerts in the coming week. St. Joseph Catholic Academy

During this special Advent season, the St. Joseph Catholic Academy community is so grateful for the gift of Catholic education. Lighting the Advent candles, celebrating Mass, praying together and serving those in need are all part of our school day at SJCA. These special moments, shared by students, faculty, staff and families alike, allow us to not only prepare our hearts for the coming of Jesus, but to prepare our students for lives of faith. If you are interested in a faith-based education for your family, please mark your calendars for our Open House on Sunday, January 27, 2019 from 1 – 4 p.m. at both campuses or contact our Admissions Directors at admissions@sjcawi.org or 262-654-8651 (ext. 104). SJCA is surprisingly affordable at all levels, with financial aid, scholarships and many flexible payment options.

It is the very times that we feel most stressed and pressed for time that we can short change our spouse. After all, he or she will understand. Today, take a moment when you next see your spouse to pause and offer a warm, knowing glance. No words need be spoken. Takes maybe 5 seconds. You can spare the change. www.susanvogt.net

Teach your child some Latin. In Latin "Advent" means something is coming. For Christians, it points us to the coming of Jesus at Christmas.

It's not here yet. We have to wait for it. Talk about how you wait for relatives or friends to arrive. It's hard to wait, but you shouldn't hurry it by celebrating before the guest's arrival. www.susanvogt.net
